DELFINA FALCÃO ON GLASS BACKSPLASHES

When I started exploring the Functional Art concept, the evolution from my fine art and decorative glass murals into glass backsplashes for kitchen and bath seemed natural. I had observed tile backsplashes, their need for grout, the demanding cleaning and the repeated design patterns.

Glass backsplashes are, on the other hand, non-porous, stain resistant, hygienic and easy to clean. I then add my design, with paint in the back, decorative inserts of fused stained glass pieces in the back but also in the front to produce enhanced 3-D effect. The glass reflects light, gives a sleek and modern look and creates the illusion of a larger kitchen space. The backsplash becomes a piece of art for everyday enjoyment.

The customer is presented with several design proposals, either by computer simulation or by creating a full-size mock-up. The customer is fully involved in the process, providing their own insight and creativity.

I highly recommend glass backsplashes as an affordable, very attractive and elegant option and I am available to assist on the decision process.
